Visa and Immigration

In order to study long-term in Germany (longer than 90 days), you must apply for a student visa which lasts between 3-6 months. If you're taking a course with a duration of less than 90 days, no visa is required. If you stay for longer than 3 months, you will also need a Residence Permit which you can get at the Alien Registration Office. Foreign students are also encouraged to open up a blocked bank account. This is just to reassure German authorities that you are able to afford your studies here. Find more information on the thank you page.
